SEATTLE MAN KILLED IN JITNEY BUS ACCIDENT

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Oct. 22.—D. J. Egan, 24 years old, a policeman employed in the automobile registration division of the police department, is held under arrest today on an open charge pending an investigation into a jitney bus accident early this morning, resulting in the death of Andrew Johnson, 60 years old, a truck driver employed by the Seattle Electric company. The accident occurred at 6:50 a. m., at Fourth and Jackson streets, and, according to Egan's story, he was a passenger in the jitney that ran the man down. With the assistance of the driver he took Johnson to the city hospital and the jitney man disappeared.
Johnson died a few minutes afterward. Egan's story was considered too vague, and he is being put through a rigid examination by Chief of Detectives Tennant.

UNIVERSITY ELEVEN OFF FOR WALLA WALLA

Portland, Oct. 22.—The U. of O. squad, headed by Coach Bezek, passed through Portland last night en route to Walla Walla, where Whitman college will be played Saturday. Bezek claimed that his huskies were in prime condition and would surely win. All that was needed, he said, was the disastrous defeat at the hands of W. S. C. recently to instill a fighting spirit into his men.

Practically the same line-up that went into the Idaho game last Saturday will be used by Bezek tomorrow.

WHAT BRITISH THINK OF KILLING WOMAN SPY

London, Oct. 22.—The British papers today called Miss Edith Cavell's execution by Germans at Brussels:
"Secret savagery."
"Frightfulness without mercy."
"Foul-minded brutality."
"Arrogant barbarism."
Then, too, they said the "German system is a deadly menace to civilization" and that "the name of Cavell should become the British battle cry."
As a parting shot, they said "the kaiser should be hanged."

ALASKA SENDS VEGETABLES TO THE SEATTLE MARKET

Seattle, Oct. 22.—Ten tons of Alaskan grown vegetables from the vicinity of Juneau, to be sold on the market here, were being discharged today from the steamer Humboldt, just arrived from the north. The Humboldt also brought $138,000 in gold bullion from the Fairbanks district, 10,000 cases of canned salmon, 100 boxes of fresh halibut and 145 passengers.

WIRELESS TALK FROM NEW YORK TO TOKIO IS HOPE

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Oct. 22.—When Europe's warring nations cease their struggle, it may not be the cable, nor yet the wireless telegraph that will flash the great tidings to America. Instead, it may be the human voice, speaking by wireless telephone over the miles of Atlantic ocean from Paris on the Eiffel tower to Arlington wireless station, Washington.
That became a possibility today with news that the Arlington effort to communicate with the Eiffel tower in Paris had succeeded. In addition to this the Washington conversation was picked up in far-away Honolulu. Thus far the conversation by wireless is all in one direction; there is not yet any instrument for replying. But Engineer Carly of the A. T. & T. company, "dreamer of dreams that come true," is hopeful of completing this portion of his experiment soon. And, it was stated, he said in talking over the long distance phone from Chicago last night to reporters here, announcing success of the Washington-Paris-Honolulu experiment, that maybe the good news of peace may come by the wireless phone.

The Arlington station found that, while communication over water had been clear, it was troubled by static interruptions above Paris. The air seemed surcharged with electric waves from the French capital, which "got in the way" of the voice. But the cables from the Eiffel tower confirmed that they had heard distinctly the words of the Arlington sender. This was no regular conversation, but rather a series of test words which would establish the fact of communication.
The next great step in the wireless telephony experimentation will be an effort to talk from New York to Tokio. This will be possible, Carly predicted recently in San Francisco, though he suggested that for such a test the transcontinental wire phone might be linked up from New York to the Golden Gate, and then relayed by connection with a wireless from San Francisco to Tokio.

MILITARY TRAINING ENDORSED BY BOARD
(By United Press Leased Wire.)
Portland, Oct. 22.—The principle of military training in the high schools of Portland today has the approval of the school board. Although military training will not be a direct part of the school curriculum, the board unanimously agreed late yesterday in adopting a resolution of recommendations drawn up by a teachers' committee, to encourage high school students to join the state militia and graduation credits in their school work will be granted for attendance at drills.
The adoption of the recommendation ends a wordy war between proponents and opponents of the military training in public schools which, at times, was quite acrimonious.

JUDGE HERMAN D. CROW OF WASHINGTON DEAD

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 22.—Judge Herman D. Crow, of the supreme court of the state, died here early this morning at St. Peter's hospital, where he had been confined for the past few weeks. He had been suffering from cancer for two years. His wife and son, Denton, were at his bedside when the end came.
Judge Crow became a member of the supreme court in 1906 and was chief justice at one time. He was born in Delaware, Ohio, April 15, 1851.

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 22.—Out of respect to the memory of Judge Herman D. Crow, of the supreme court, who died early this morning, the supreme court was adjourned today, and the prohibition argument, the most important litigation to come up during the October term, was postponed until Monday. It was scheduled for argument today.

BODY OF MISSING MAN FOUND IN JACKSON HOLE

Salem, Oct. 22.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Clayton L. Ransom, physician for the Hammond Lumber company at Mill City, Ore., is solved today with the receipt of a telegram saying that his body had been found in the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming, where he was on a hunting expedition. Ransom had been shot to death. Whether by accident or otherwise the telegram did not state.

Ransom disappeared September 27 from the hunting camp established by himself and Dell B. Judd, a guide. Search for Ransom has been prosecuted ever since.

HOP KILN BURNS ON THE HORST RANCH

Sacramento, Oct. 22.—A kiln and one hop picking machine burned last night on the Horst hop ranch near this city. The origin of the fire is unknown. The management refused to say today that they believed the I. W. W. had set the fire.

MASON TELLS WHAT WAR MOVES MEAN

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Oct. 22.—The increasing Russian successes are assuming proportions which must be beginning to attract the notice of the central allies. Since Field Marshal von Mackensen left to direct the Serbian drive the Slavs have been hammering the Teutons around the Pripiet marshes and have finally bent their line there.

The Germans would be in danger of east Prussian catastrophes from the Russians if the latter could produce a genius like von Hindenburg. The Teutons must reinforce there if they would save their gains. With von Mackensen asking reinforcements in Serbia, the time will perhaps arrive soon when the central allies must decide whether to curtail the Balkan forces or shorten the eastern front by retirement.
The Galicia and Bukovina situations are also contributing to such a grave decision from the central allies. The Russians are driving them from the Roumanian border at a time when the Roumanian dissonance has arrived at Petrograd to discuss with Russia offers for Roumanian participation. Problems facing German leadership are growing more complex. Perhaps soon the Teuton heads will consider what territory they now hold can be abandoned with least harm.

PORTLAND HAS VISION OF BEING SHIPPING CENTER
Portland, Oct. 22.—Following months of study of trade conditions and negotiations with 14 steamship lines, great progress has been made by the chamber of commerce toward making Portland one of the great shipping centers of the Pacific coast, it was announced today.
Within one year, it was said, at least three lines, and possibly five, would establish direct and regular service between Portland and the Hawaiian islands, Alaska, South America and Europe.
The dredging of the Columbia river bar until a 36-foot depth at low water obtains has made possible the success of the negotiations.
While the names of the three lines that will positively establish service have not been made public, it was said the 14 lines negotiated with includes every one with steamers plying on the Pacific northwest coast.

BULGARIANS ACROSS SALONIKI-NISH RAILROAD

Athens, Oct. 22.—Turks and Bulgarians are engaged in heavy battle with the Serbs at Veles on the Vardar river, 23 miles southeast of Uskub. This proves that the Bulgarians are well across the Saloniki-Nish railway line and well inside Serbia, apparently heading for Monastir.
The Bulgars are fortifying the Rhodope mountain defiles of the Greek frontier.
